

Ron Stadslev

El Cajon, California, USA

ronstadslev@gmail.com

PH 619 334 1013

I have over 30 years of teaching experience and have taught at every level from first grade through graduate school; and have worked both as a teacher/professor as well as an administrator.

Education:

- M.S. Ed. - Northern State College, Aberdeen, South Dakota, USA
- B.S. Ed. - Concordia Teachers College, River Forest, Illinois, USA
- Certified as a Trainer with the National Center for Human Potential Seminars and Services, Evanston, Illinois, USA

Experience

2007-Present

Spend several months each year working with schools in China

2005-Retired

Worked with Habitat for Humanity in Poland

2002- Retired

Worked with Habitat for Humanity in New Zealand

1987-2001 Owner, Ecology Works

We introduced recycled paper into the San Diego area and provided consulting services to cities and organizations seeking to implement ecological practices into their organizations.

1985-1986 Sabbatical

During this time I became heavily involved with environmental organizations. I studied the field a great deal and started up a business I called Ecology Works.

1974-1984 Director of Experiential Learning Projects at the Institute of Research and Service, University of Alabama.

Developed Simulation Gaming Center

Developed Human Potential Seminars

Directed Project Outer Limits: to research explore the outer limits of human potential

1963-1973 Professor at Concordia College in Seward Nebraska

Coordinator for student teachers

Coordinator for developing the curriculum for Teacher Training Laboratory

Leave of absence for two years (68-69) to accept internship with the Social Science Education Consortium at the University of Colorado. The Consortium supports creative, cooperative work among social scientists and educators in the building and use of elementary and secondary social studies curriculum. While with the Consortium I helped to conduct a number of workshops across the country. The two most frequent topics dealt with were "Trends in the New Social Studies Projects" and "Simulation/Gaming: What Is It? What Can It Do?"

1961 to 1962 Taught at the Army Dependent Schools in Bremerhaven Germany

First year taught a combination 5th and 6 grade class. Second year taught history and coached basketball team in High School

1955 to 1960 Principal, Immanuel School in Alpena, Michigan

Taught all grades and became principal of new school

1969 to 1984 Field Consultant in Simulation/Gaming for such agencies as:

- Educational Consulting Associates
- Institute for World Order
- Social Science Education Consortium
- Association of Colleges and Universities for International and Intercultural Affairs
- Alabama Consortium for the Development of Higher Education
- Alabama Open Learning Center

Workshops

Conducted more than 100 training labs in simulation/gaming throughout the United States and as well as an annual two-week summer seminar on the uses of simulation/gaming in social education for graduate credits.

Conference presentations:

Presentations given in 27 different meetings and organizations.¹

Publications:

Authored "Handbook of Simulation Gaming in Social Education." 1975, University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, Alabama. This book was used as a text in the Colleges of Education at many universities in the US and abroad.

Published 17 articles and papers.²

¹ Complete listing is available upon request.

² Complete listing is available upon request.

Memberships:

- Member of National Council of Social Studies
- Simulation and Gaming Association
- North American Simulation and Gaming Association
- International Simulation and Gaming Association
- World Council for Curriculum and Instruction
- World Future Society

American Personnel and Guidance Association

- Association for Human Potential Seminar Leaders and Trainers Affiliate of American Education Research Association's special interest group in Simulation Systems
- Association of Transpersonal Psychology
- Association of Humanistic Psychology
- Nebraska Social Studies Action Council
- Social Studies Advisory Council for Educational Service Unit VI, Nebraska
- Materials Certification and Evaluation of the American Council of Educational Simulation and Gaming
- State Center for Human Potential Seminars, Alabama, Coordinator.

Interests:

Travel, culture, sports, physical fitness. At the present time I still work out everyday and play basketball with a Senior Olympic Basketball team.
